

ELGI earns Rio Tinto's global vendor status

Rio Tinto, the leading international mining and metals group, has selected ELGI selected as an approved global vendor. Rio Tinto group spans all continents in more than 40 countries and is strongly represented in Australia, South Africa and North America.

The Rio Tinto logo consists of the words "RioTinto" in a white, sans-serif font, centered within a solid red rectangular background.

ELGI has met stringent criteria in specific categories set by Rio Tinto. Based on the audit of ELGI facilities that included a review of manufacturing systems & practices, quality assurance, technical capability, financial capability, health, safety & environment procedures and human resource management, Rio Tinto has qualified ELGI as a potential supplier of air compressors to the group.

ELGI has been a key supplier of diesel powered screw compressors to mining and construction industries in Australia, South America, South Africa, Middle East and Indonesia. The efficiency of the unique N-profile airends and its ability to operate at ambient temperature have proven the compressors to be reliable the world over.

In India, ELGI is the only manufacturer to offer high volume high-pressure diesel powered compressors for CBM (Coal Bed Methane) drilling. The company offers a wide range of single-stage and two-stage diesel powered compressors from 175 to 1200 cfm and pressure variants up to 350 psig. The essence of these compressors is that they are powered by Cummins engine with international warranty.

ELGI continues to strengthen its position in the mining industry. The recent Rio Tinto's approval will serve as an excellent platform for further enhancing its operations in the global mining market.
